

RAY RIEGER TRAINING

Product Pres. #1 Script

.....Warranty extension and what that covers you for is your engine, transmission, transfer case, tires, rims, keyfobs and a whole bunch of other things.

Basically what it doesn't cover you for is normal wear and tear parts like your wiper blades, brake pads and those sort of things.

So with the pocket book protections and your one buy down point that puts your payment to $$$

So out of these two options which one do you feel best suits you?
